

Kin add $3,000 to Cat Scan fund

A campaign conducted by the Minden Kinettes, Kinsmen and K-40 clubs has raised $3,000 for the Peterborough Cat Scan Fund.

The campaign began in September when the Kinettes pushed a crib-on-wheels from Kinmount to Minden to raise funds for a croupette for the Minden Hospital.

The generous response to the Cribathon resulted in surplus funds which were set aside for the Cat Scan Fund. The Minden Kinsmen and K-40, clubs then matched those funds and on Saturday, December 15 two cheques totalling $3,000 were presented to Jerry Peters, the Cat Scan Fund Co-ordinator.

Peters told the service groups that response to the Cat Scan Fund had been outstanding and that he has been "delighted at the response throughout the entire region."

He said that with the addition of the donation he received that evening the fund had reached the $915,000 mark.

Board backs 'go slow' recommendation

A position paper released by Directors of Public Boards of Education in Ontario calling on the province to defer implementation of the recommendations of three provincial commissions has been strongly endorsed by the Haliburton County Board of Education. The endorsement came in a resolution passed at the monthly Board meeting on December 11.

The announcement of the formation of the commissions was made by Premier William Davis on June 12.

The Commission on the Financing of Elementary and Secondary Education in Ontario will be studying all aspects of financing with special emphasis on the apportionment and allocation of provincial funds to school boards; alternative methods of financing elementary and secondary education and the degree of local participation in meeting education costs through property taxation.

A second commission is studying alternative methods of funding special educational programs and the third commission is concerned with the funding of private schools.

Included in the position paper is the statement, "The role of publicly-funded systems of education is to help the government in its responsibility to every individual to provide a high quality of education, equality of opportunity and the protection of rights and freedoms. It is our belief that the announcement of June 12, as it now stands, fosters a division within our society and is not the model the government should use to meet their responsibilities."

"We should arrive at a form of governance that would unify the Province.

One such model which we support is an umbrella educational governing body with appropriate components at the local level. If we do not, we merely reinforce whatever is divisive."

The umbrella educational body could encompass Roman Catholic education, public school education, French language education, Native education and approved alternative education.

The statement notes that there are many issues which require resolution including quality of programs, accessibility for students, accessibility to jobs for teachers and non-teaching staff, protection of rights to freedom of choice, funding, facilities, governance and designation of taxes.

The position paper outlines concerns that while other types of legislation such as Bill 82 and the Ontario Schools Intermediate and Senior (OSIS) program afforded ample opportunity for consultation, the change in government policy announced by the Premier was "announced with no consultation and contained a requirement for speedy implementation."

The directors add, "We believe the government, because of all the unresolved issues, should lengthen its timeline for implementation in order to ensure that the quality of programs is maintained in the province."

The Commission on the Financing of Elementary and Secondary Education in Ontario is presently expected to report to the Minister of Education by October 31, 1985.

In commenting on the position paper the Director of the Haliburton Board of Education, Stuart Baker, told the Board that he personally supports the position paper.

He emphasised that the directors have no objection

Councillor critical of settlement

A recent wage settlement between the Haliburton County Board of Education and CUPE local 142 has come under criticism by some members of County Council.

The Board ratified a two year contract with the union local in October, giving custodians a 47c an hour raise retroactive to January 1984 and a 75c an hour increase in the second year of the contract commencing on January 1, 1985.

Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey, a member of the County Management Committee, criticised the wage settlement at the regular meeting of County Council on December 12.

Describing the Board as "our inflation fighters", Fearrey told council that it did not make sense to give the CUPE employees the rollback plus an 8% raise in the second year, adding that the salary increase as "difficult to justify in a time of restraint." Fearrey informed council that

Tax on trailers considered

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing will conduct discussions during 1985 to examine municipal taxation of recreational trailers occupying campsites on a long-term basis.

The announcement by Municipal Affairs and Housing Minister Claude Bennett follows a series of preliminary discussions held recently to consider if municipalities should be allowed to charge fees for recreational trailers situated in campgrounds on a long-term basis.

This review would not apply to shorter term users of campsites, such as weekend or daily rentals, Bennett said.

Under current legislation, the owners of recreational trailers are exempt from paying municipal property taxes because it was felt at the time the legislation was enacted that trailers were transient vehicles located temporarily in different municipalities.

However, a number of municipal councils have pointed out that many owners of recreational trailers now do not move about the province, but park their trailer at one campsite and use it several months each year.

A number of municipalities have requested that such long-term residents of trailer campsites be required to contribute to local revenues.

"Municipal councils are not concerned with tourists moving about the province in their trailers, spending a few days or a few weeks at a trailer campsite," Bennett said. "There has never been any thought of charging those people a fee."

"The main concern municipalities have voiced is with the long-term residents of trailer campsites, who are using the same municipal services as cottagers but where it is uncertain that the current taxes on campgrounds are commensurate with those on cottages."

Bennett said his ministry plans to consult with various representatives of the tourism and campground industries during the next year, as well as with a large number of municipalities.

The ministry has no plans to bring forward legislation on the issue until the matter has been discussed fully, Bennett said.

"This is a complex issue which requires careful examination and study," Bennett said. "I am confident that our discussions during the next year will result in a solution which will be acceptable to all parties involved with this issue."

transfer payments from the provincial government have only increased at a rate of 3.8% which is the current inflation rate.

He said that the next highest wage increase given to CUPE employees in the province was only 5%, adding, "We may have set a record for giving away the most in a time of restraint."

Fearrey pointed out to Council that the wage settlement would have a detrimental effect on wage negotiations with County Roads employees.

Bicroft Reeve Bill Howe also criticized the 8% increase. "We, (municipalities), get the flack because we have to raise taxes," he said, adding that he would be including a letter in his municipality's tax notices outlining the board's share of expenditures. Howe said that while he was aware of the importance of education for young people, the settlement was "setting a very poor example for the rest of us."

to the intent of the commissions but "want time to examine the findings of the commissions and to see what effect they will have on local school boards."

He noted that the "pluralistic society of downtown Toronto is very different from Haliburton County," adding that these differences must be considered if changes are made to the system of education.

Baker also noted that the directors have suggested that the three commissions should come together to co-ordinate their findings.

Baker concluded by stating, "I have made a commitment to support this, but I will object to any individual recommendations that are not in the public interest. I want it to best serve all the needs of the children."

A copy of the Board's resolution supporting the position paper will be forwarded to the chairmen of the three commissions.

Kin donation

Organizers of the fund hope to be able to raise $1.8 million by May 1, so, as Peters noted, the campaign has passed the halfway mark. Walley Hicks, the Chief X-ray technician at the Peterborough Civic Hospital gave a brief technical description of the Cat Scan and answered questions posed by the members of the service groups.

He told the gathering that, at present, several hundred people from the region benefitted from the Cat Scanner in Toronto last year, but he noted that many of those patients had to wait for several months for an examination.

A Cat Scanner is desperately needed in this area, he said, to serve patients from the four neighbouring counties.

He said that the Cat Scanner is an invaluable diagnostic tool which can detect potentially serious problems and can differentiate between malignant or benign tumours thus making exploratory surgery often unnecessary.

Organizers indicate that the Cat Scanner should be installed in the Peterborough Civic Hospital by the end of the summer to serve patients from the nine hospitals in Haliburton, Victoria, Hastings and Northumberland Counties.

Heating system changes

Employees in the County Building in Minden will find things a lot warmer this winter.

Work has just been completed on the installation of a three-phase electric heat system throughout the building. The system replaces the oil-fired steam system that had deteriorated to the point where a part of the system had to be shut down because of leaks.

Because the pipes carrying the steam to each room are located in the walls it was difficult to locate and repair the damage. The County installed the new system on the recommendation of Ontario Hydro who conducted an energy audit of the building earlier this year.

The system includes base-board heaters in the Council Chambers and Board room that can be turned off when meetings are not being held to reduce electrical consumption.

At the regular meeting of County Council held on December 12, Harry Clark, Chairman of the Property Committee, told Council that work on the new system was nearly complete but noted that there was one small problem.

"We have got the heat in" he said, "but now we have to get the old system out to make more room for the Roads Department."

The Roads Department, located adjacent to the furnace room, is becoming crowded and could utilize the space occupied by some of the old heating system. That includes two 200 gallon oil tanks and a boiler that measures approximately twelve feet by three feet.

There is also a 100 gallon hot water tank that has been replaced by a smaller unit to conserve energy. Clark explained that the boiler is too large to be removed from the furnace room and that it would probably have to be cut into sections before it can be taken out.

Clark asked his fellow councillors for possible solutions to the problem.

Bicroft Reeve Bill Howe suggested that the County advertise for tenders to have the boiler removed.

Another Councillor informed Clark that a

Toronto based company purchases used boilers and suggested that the company be contacted.

However, there is a further complication as Clark noted. "The problem is that the boiler is not only intact, it is in cement," he said. Clark then agreed to bring the matter to the attention of the property Committee for further discussion.

"Christmas brings temptations to many parents, while visiting with neighbours or completing last minute shopping, to leave small children unattended for short periods," says Fire Chief William Jackson.

"At the same time, decorations, trees and wrapping paper bring an increased threat of fire danger unless constant care is exercised."

The Fire Chief urges all parents to recognize the fire danger of this season, and not to leave small children alone in the home for a moment. He points out that the Criminal Code of Canada forbids such actions which endangers the life or health of any child under the age of ten years.

Parents are further reminded that under certain conditions a Christmas tree can be ignited by a single match to burn furiously to charred wood in a few seconds. Care must be taken to keep butts of natural trees immersed in water and to ensure that the tree itself does not obstruct access to a door or window. Families are also urged to review their home fire-escape plans for a quick exit in an emergency.

Education review required

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

With the mounting evidence of the need to prepare our young people for the world of work, Liberal Leader David Peterson has announced the establishment of a Task Force on School and Work to investigate current problems in this area and ways in which they may be overcome.

It is clear that something is amiss - thousands of young people continue to be frustrated by a lack of job opportunities while, at the same time, employers complain they cannot find people with the skills necessary to fill the jobs which are available.

Manpower forecasts warn us of a potential shortfall over the next four years of more than 60,000 workers with rudimentary vocational training. Almost 60,000 more post-secondary graduates will be sought who will not be available. Meanwhile, small business claims there is a current need for roughly 30,000 persons with a wide variety of skills.

The Liberal Task Force on School and Work will set out to determine how this need can be met. Co-chairmen of the Task Force will be Sean Conway, M.P.P. (Renfrew North), our party's Colleges and Universities Critic, and Jim Bradley, M.P.P. (St. Catharines), the Education Critic. These knowledgeable and outspoken leaders will be joined by different local Liberal members as the Task Force conducts its investigations around the province.

This Task Force will examine the broad issues of the integration of all secondary, post-secondary and industrial education/training systems, evaluate the current secondary curriculum and proposals for reform, and investigate a reformed policy setting role for government.

The Task Force on School and Work has been given the following mandate:

Explore the School and Workskills Mismatch

There is an apparent and widespread lack of the basic skills, of literacy and numeracy.

At the same time, there are skilled labour shortages despite high levels of unemployment.

Consider the Potential for Major Secondary School Curriculum Reform

There are alternatives to the traditional "ivory tower" ideal of schooling. There are increasing demands for more realistic education which is relevant to the work world. There is increased need for an enhanced use of experience-based education programs, such as co-operative education programs and drop-in/drop-out options.

Propose Options for Co-ordinated School and Work Training

There will be consideration of examples of successful co-operation between training and educational institutions. There is a recognized need for government to assume an improved role in the co-ordination of training efforts between educational and other institutions. There clearly appears to be a need for a means whereby information and access to all levels of education and training may be consolidated.

Obviously, the Liberal Task Force cannot hope to solve all of the problems of our education/training systems. But it can solicit and synthesize views from many interested parties, and propose ways in which reforms can be initiated. After all, when tens of thousands of skilled jobs go unfilled despite record unemployment, when thirty-six percent of young people do not even complete high school and barely ten percent complete college training or apprenticeship, something must be done.

Investigate Training Gaps and Overlaps

There are instances of training and educational programs which are not accepted by employers. There are examples of sectors within a training institution, such as the educational system, that are competing with each other for the same group of trainees.

No horse races, bathing indecently or houses of 'ill-fame' .....

Like Fibber McGee's closet which filled to overflowing with all sorts of flotsam and jetsam, municipi-pal bylaw books can also become crowded, often with outdated and curious reminders of a different era. Stanhope Township is no exception. A recent perusal through the bylaw book turned up this interesting piece of legislation, enacted January 17, 1875, to protect public morals.

According to the municipality's present clerk, Gerald Bain, the bylaw has never been rescinded, so the provisions contained in the document still apply in the township. In law, however, many of the areas of responsibility have shifted from the municipality to the province.

The bylaw provides an interesting glimpse at an era long gone...

Flood protection rules

The Province of Ontario has established new minimum flood protection criteria, accepting one of the key recommendations of the provincial Floodplain Review Committee that conducted public meetings and solicited comments last fall.

Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope announced that the new minimum standard will offer the people of Ontario protection against flood levels with a probability of occurrence of once every 100 years.

But the Minister also noted that government approval of requests from municipalities to change the existing level of flood protection would be governed by two overriding conditions.

"What we propose is to consider a reduction in the floodplain criteria from present levels to the one-in-100 - year standard on a watershed basis in any region where a significant majority of the municipalities request it," Mr. Pope said.

"However, we will not support the lowering of flood protection criteria in any part of Ontario where the past history of flooding reveals that higher criteria would be more appropriate."

Mr. Pope also said that municipalities that are satisfied with their present flood protection criteria are under no obligation to change the standards.

"I am not suggesting that we should settle for reduced protection from the danger of floods, but rather that Ontario's floodplain criteria should be responsive to real local conditions and experience. This approach gives us the flexibility we need."

The Minister indicated that responsibility for managing floodplains will be retained by the province's 39 conservation authorities.

"I prefer that floodplain management remain with organizations that are based on a watershed boundary basis, as the authorities are. The watershed focus is critical to effective floodplain management," he said.

The Minister also noted that there is a need for increased public review and input into the management of floodplain lands in Ontario.

"I do agree that the operations of certain conservation authorities can be made more open and responsive, and they will be," said Mr. Pope.

"The regulation of conservation authority activities will be enacted. This will include a requirement for

Assess Existing Educational Initiatives

There is growing concern over the effect of the new high school curriculum on students who enter the workforce directly from high school. There appear to be problems for employers and labour representatives in gaining access to the schools. There are emerging doubts about the relevance of the "back-to-basics" movement in the schools, for students who will be working in the 21st century.

the development of public forums to explain and discuss floodplain mapping and proposed regulations. It will require full access to files and technical documents. It will require notice of all meetings of conservation authorities and publications of agendas in advance."

The Minister said that

Propane inspections delayed to April 30

Ontario Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow and Consumer and Commercial Relations Minister Dr. Robert Elgie said recently the effective date of the propane motor vehicle inspection program has been extended from January 1st to April 30, 1985.

This extension to April 30th will allow for a more widely distributed number of inspection stations across guidelines are currently being prepared to assist in the implementation of the new directions he outlined for floodplain management to help ensure consistent application across the province.

"I believe that the changes I have announced go a long way toward meeting the challenge of balancing the inescapable need for flood protection for the people of Ontario with the rights of those who own property throughout this province," he said.

the province. It will also provide the estimated 50,000 propane-fuelled motor vehicle owners in Ontario ample opportunity to have their vehicles fuel systems inspected.

After April 30, 1985, it will be illegal in Ontario to fuel or drive an Ontario-licensed propane vehicle not displaying a windshield sticker, indicating its fuel system has been inspected and meets government standards.

Fraud warning

The Ontario Provincial Police headquarters in Toronto have issued a caution to homeowners on a fraudulent mail order scheme.

A firm representing itself as "Federal Testing Authority", Suite 718, 130 Adelaide Street West, Toronto, Ontario has distributed literature through the mail into several Ontario communities requesting recipients complete a questionnaire type form, and return with proper postage.

Also, included is a brochure advising that for a sum of $16.80, paid by cheque or money order and forwarded to Federal Testing Authority, Toronto, the participant will receive one of twenty various prizes "free", with a value ranging from $262.95 to $2,000.00.

Police forces across Ontario have been alerted to this scheme and any householders receiving mail from "Federal Testing Authority" should contact their local police force or O.P.P. detachment.

Eakins reviews MTC estimates

The review of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications estimates has just been completed at Queen's Park, and John Eakins, M.P.P. (Victoria - Haliburton) said today that he is pleased with the result of those meetings, especially appearing for the first time as the Official Opposition Critic for that Ministry.

Mr. Eakins went on to say that the Ministry of Transportation and Communications is a huge Ministry, and that being critic also carries a very heavy responsibility. The Ministry covers everything from driver licensing and testing to highway planning and reconstruction, provincial and municipal transit, the Ontario Highway Transport Board, highway safety and signage, etc.

Mr. Eakins also said, "Being the Transport Critic provides me with the added opportunity to press for additional needs in my own riding and, as a result, I hope in the near future to see some results."

During the estimates, I pointed out the need for additional funding for our municipal roads program in Ontario, which studies have shown are deteriorating very quickly. The Minister said that their budgets are being cut by the Treasurer and unless Mr. Grossman sees the need for greater funding, then the emphasis will have to be placed on maintenance rather than reconstruction.

"I am pleased that the Ministry will call tenders for grading and rehabilitation of two structures on Highway 35. The work will start just south of Highway 121 and proceed north for 9.7 km, excluding a 2 km section. This will result in a wider pavement and improved driving conditions. The bridges over the Perrin Creek and Trent Canal will also be repaired. Tenders will be opened on January 16.

"Tenders were also called for a four-bay garage on Highway 121 at the Tory Hill Patrol Yard at Highway 503."

Season safety for children

The Christmas season is a time when we must be especially careful about our children's safety. Many of us have little visitors and we must make sure that our homes are safe for them.

Babies and toddlers normally feel, taste and chew anything within reach. Christmas plants and ornaments which glitter and shine are often toxic as well.

Tree lights and tinsel are particularly tempting to young children. Choking after swallowing tinsel or other decorations is a too common occurrence. Keep household decorations above the child's reach. Ornaments on the lower branches of the tree should be unbreakable and edible (non-toxic). If your child does happen to eat something he shouldn't and doesn't cough it up, take him to your family doctor or hospital emergency department immediately.

Many plants commonly used to brighten our homes are also poisonous. The plant berries and leaves themselves may be toxic and the ingested leaves, berries or twigs may become lodged in the throat causing choking or irritated throat lining. Philodendron, holly, poinsettia, Jerusalem Cherry and mistletoe leaves and berries are poisonous plants.

The bubbling fluid in Christmas tree lights is toxic if swallowed and when absorbed into the child's system can cause serious neurological damage.

Snow sprays and fire salts used to produce multi-coloured flames in fireplaces are also toxic. In most cases eating these substances is so irritating to the stomach and mouth that vomiting automatically occurs.

Christmas time is party time, and that means partial empty liquor glasses and containers. What may seem like an empty bottle may contain enough liquor to make a young child seriously ill.

Keep all glasses and containers out of the reach of your child. Ensure that after the last guest leaves, all glasses are emptied and bottles are safely disposed. Also remember to clean out all ashtrays.

Whenever you believe your child may have swallowed any potentially poisonous substance; call your doctor or the nearest hospital emergency department. When in doubt, it is better to call for advice immediately - don't wait for the appearance of symptoms

Workers needed

by Donna Bailey

Are you an energetic person with time on your hands to help a senior or disabled person? Or do you know of someone who is?

Our home help policy is "to provide good quality home help and maintenance to seniors and disabled persons who are unable to do it form themselves at a reasonable rate." This is a very important service. In many cases, because of health reasons, they are unable to do it for themselves.

The client places the request for home help by contacting our office at 457-2941. We then pass the information along to our home help convenor, Darlene McElwain. She will get in touch with you and ask if you are available to fill the request. Your obligation is to go to the client's home and do the work requested as efficiently as possible.

The client will pay you directly ($4.00 per hour for adults and $3.15 per hour for students.) We request that you send a form monthly stating the number of hours of work that you have done. We do insist upon confidentiality.

You can sign up to become a Home Help at our office located opposite Emmerson Lumber any weekday. Home Helpers are needed in all areas of the County.

Did you know

by Bambi Gilder

Did you know...that our office has information for people who are interested in starting a small business in Ontario?

Almost everyone at some time in their life has thought about starting a business. The independence it would bring...the thought of being your own boss...the prospect of making a profit on products or services sold, in addition to your salary...

the idea of being the key decision maker...the freedom from routine. All of these are powerful motivating factors.

The Ministry of Industry and Trade has prepared a book which outlines how to start your own business properly and what programs are available once you get going. It examines the approach to business, financing, business aids, licences, regulations, registrations, taxation and much more.

To obtain this publication free of charge, drop in to your County Information Centre or give us a call at 457-2733. Our office is located in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emmerson Lumber) in Haliburton and we are open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

And remember, you will never know the answer, until you ask the question.

COUNTY OF HALIBURTON ROADS DEPARTMENT

SNOW REMOVAL

The Highway Traffic Act RSO 1980, C198 - S147, Revised 1982 states "No person shall park or stand a vehicle on a highway to interfere with the clearing of snow". A constable may have the vehicle removed from the roadway and stored at the owner's expense.

Section 157 states "No person shall deposit snow or ice on a roadway without permission in writing from the road authority responsible for maintenance of the road". The penalty on conviction is a fine of not more than $50.00.

The co-operation of all motorists in these matters would be appreciated for efficient winter maintenance of County Roads and the safety of others.

We had a lovely surprise at The Times Friday, when Santa dropped in to check things out before his big day and to leave some goodies for the staff. Thank you very much Santa, we appreciate your taking the time out of your busy schedule to visit.

A note from A.F.S. tells of the Staunworth Court Christmas Party. Thank you for passing it on Alex, we're sure everyone will enjoy sharing it.

Staunworth Court residents held a pre-Christmas party Tuesday, December 18 and had as their guests, the Directors of the Housing Corporation and their ladies.

Entertainment was provided by Fred Ballard at the organ playing Christmas carols and by Shirley Colliss and friend Norma who led those present in a number of well-known songs.

A surprise visitor was Santa Claus himself who, besides having gifts for everyone, was at his entertaining best. The ladies provided a beautifully arranged lunch table and some of the plates they prepared were a work of art. The lunch was enjoyed by all and the evening closed with everyone agreeing that it had been a most enjoyable time.

The Christmas concert at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School was, once again, a resounding success. Music teacher Rick Vaughan is to be congratulated - his enthusiasm and patience with these great kids is evidenced in the performances of the bands.

The concert began with selections, including the kid's favourite, 'Thriller' by

The concert ended with the Concert Band, smart in their red blazers, playing Christmas carols in which the audience was invited to "sing along." Many did!

All in all, the evening was most entertaining and we wish to thank Mr. Vaughan and the students for making it so.

Question?

What's it all about, Folks?
What's happening, and why?
Pondering perspectives
Contradictions multiply
And cannot be obscured, Folks
No matter how we try.

It may be our economy
It's time now running out,
Can vision no tomorrow
It's future much in doubt.
Now that could be the reason,
And what its all about.

While technically advancing
Producing more and more,
Laying off the market,
More wealth and still more poor.
Now wherein lies the logic?
If any, its obscure.

Building up the tensions,
Conditioning the will,
Marketing in armaments,
Producing overkill,
To bolster an economy
That threatens to stand still.

All this skill and labour
Production to no end,
Qualified by fear,
Insiduously planned
Cruel manipulation
To create demand.

These people are our enemies,
These the Trojan foe.
These we must identify
Imperative we know,
Whatever it may take, Folks,
These Quislings, they must go.

W. Watson.

the Concert Band featuring students from Grades 10, 11, 12 and 13, followed by the Grade 9 Band who entertained with some Christmas music ending with the rousing Hogan's Heroes march which set many toes a-tapping.

Next on the program was the very relaxed and most enjoyable Stage Band. This group rehearses every Wednesday evening and it pays off in their superb playing. Soloists in the Stage Band included Chris Miscio and Lori Valentine on trumpets and Marg Smith on alto sax. This is really a fun group as one could guess by the varied selection of headgear worn.

A new group, called "Young Country" made their debut at the concert, consisting of Vince Duchene, Dan Mawbey, Sean Saunders and Kendall Mintz and were much applauded by the audience.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Members of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School concert band entertained friends and relatives Thursday night at the school's annual Christmas concert.

senior league

by Bert Harrison

Dear readers: An event took place here Saturday night, to all the residents here it was a delight. St. Paul's Anglican Church Sunday School presented their Christmas pageant which really was a sight. It was so well acted and the costumes were sublime. We thank you for coming to us at this festive time.

Edna Cowen spent the weekend with her daughter, Marie Baker. Lily Hogg her roommate would have liked to have gone out too, but had no one to take her. Sunday night as we sat down to eat, Santa Claus came along and gave us all a treat.

Quite a lot of activity here over the weekend, nearly everyone had someone come to call. Mrs. Stutt had her daughter, Ruth, Doris Vaughan had her son, Della Curry, her grandson and by the way Annie Cox has some of her family come almost every day.

In the chapel service Sunday night, not too many there. Ruth played the music, Harold read the lesson and also led in prayer. Then Rev. Burgess took over from there. Now Rev. John is a speaker who doesn't shout, but speaks with a nice even voice, to tell you what it's all about. Jesus said, "I am the door, he that entereth in, I will in no wise cast out." The ladies are working in the craft room. I don't know what they're doing. They work away so quietly, I don't hear any chewing.

Rev. Westhaver, of Minden United Church conducted a service in the chapel this 18th December day. Spoke on the Christmas story in a very interesting way. Fred Ballard came, the music to play.

To Teddy Carr and Arthur Young we would like to say, congratulations on your birthday.

Our sympathy from all here we would like to convey to the family and relatives of Madeline Trepanier.

The children from the Minden Playschool came over to our auditorium this Tuesday along with their leaders, Ginger Kulas, Carol Miles, Carol Cox, Maureen Johnson, Judy Davis, Ann Hodgson and Susan Payne. The children sang Christmas carols and entertained us royally. They were a lively bunch. Then afterward, they served us a real nice lunch. This wasn't the end because then we had a visit from dear old Santa Claus.

Well readers we'll have to dance a lively tune, we have to have this letter in by Friday noon.

The ladies are working in the craft room, that is, all that are able, making decorations for our Christmas tables.

The members of the All-saw Pentecostal Church came over to Hyland Crest, sang Christmas carols and were our special guests. Pastor Wood spoke very impressively about the Christmas story and led us in prayer. We thank you for coming your talents with us to share.

Sorry to report as I write this letter we have Marie Baker under doctor's care. We hope she will soon feel better.

Linda showed us movies Thursday morning instead of Monday night. They were very interesting and really quite a sight.

"Happiness is often the result of being too busy to be miserable."

ASK YOUR PHARMACIST

"All-too-common cold"

"I have a cold. What do you recommend I take? There seem to be so many products..."

Nothing you can take for the common cold will make it go away. You will get better. A simple cold will run its course in 5 to 7 days. The best advice anyone can give you is: Go to bed for a few days and drink plenty of fluids. However, you've probably heard that before and already know you haven't the time.

You can treat the symptoms of your cold — symptom by symptom — as they occur. You will still have it, but you may feel better.

There are a few precautions.

If you are a diabetic, or have high blood pressure or glaucoma, or must avoid alcohol, ask your pharmacist which medicines you may take. Don't combine cold medicines with alcoholic beverages.

Which cold products will be effective? It depends upon your symptoms.

Cold products are formulated as decongestants, antihistamines, cough suppressants, expectorants, and analgesics. The product's label will tell you what its action is. Avoid the multi-blockbuster approach. There's no point taking something for symptoms you don't have.

Decongestant cold products are usually the most useful. They relieve a "stuffed-up" feeling by shrinking swollen blood vessels in the nasal passages. Otrivin® drops, Sudafed® and Coldecon® are familiar examples.

Antihistamines dry up nasal secretions. If you have a very runny nose and post-nasal drip, these can help. Don't take them if you are congested or are coughing; antihistamines will make these conditions worse. Dimetane®, Benadryl® and Chlortripolon® are generally available antihistamines.

There are two kinds of cold coughs — productive (it brings up phlegm) and non-productive (the dry, hacking kind).

If you have a productive cough, you need an expectorant. The best, and certainly the cheapest, is ordinary water.

© CPHA 1984

Cough suppressants are for dry, hacking coughs. Both codeine and dextromethorphan (DM) are excellent cough suppressants to be used if your cough is keeping you from sleeping. You will have to ask your pharmacist for cough products containing codeine as it is a narcotic. DM is not a narcotic. You can find it in Robidex® and Noscatus® syrups among others.

Use ASA or acetaminophen to treat aches, fever, or headache. They are both effective analgesics.

Try to get more rest. Many people swear by the nighttime use of a vaporizer or room humidifier. Both are good ideas.

Don't pile cold products one on top of the other. Read the label. Know what symptoms you are treating. Your pharmacist can help you target treatment to symptoms.

If your cold has not improved within 4 or 5 days, see your doctor. A simple, common cold can become something more serious.
